Attention: Leslie E. Bliss

Dear Sir:

Will you please be so good as to place the name of of this library on your mailing list for the bulletins to which I find a reference on the October issue of the American Historical Review. It is always possible that a library so rich in original resources as yours may have something of importance in our field and we should therefore very much appreciate the courtesy which I am taking the liberty of requesting.

Very truly yours,

Broadway between 155th & 156th Streets
New York City

Attention: Mr. Sydney P. Noe, Secretary

Dear Sir:

In much delayed reply to your note of October 14, I regret to say that the Huntington Library has but a limited supply of its bulletins for distribution. Consequently, it will be impossible for me to place you on our mailing list.

In the case of Bulletin I, which so far has been the only one issued, you can purchase a copy at a cost of $2.50 from the Harvard University Press. However, should you not care to do this, as this number certainly contains nothing of direct numismatic interest, I am glad to give you the following assurance:

Should we, at any time, publish a bulletin containing articles of interest to your Society, I will remember to send you a copy of either the bulletin in question, or a separate of the article concerning your interests.

Regretting I cannot be of more assistance,
I am

Very truly yours,

Leslie E. Bliss
